

Assessment, Analysis, and Decision Making: The Guilford Practical Intervention in Evaluation

RTI Applications, Volume 2: Assessment, Analysis, and Decision Making (The Guilford Practical Intervention in the Schools Series) by T. Chris Riley-Tillman

★★★★☆ 4.7 out of 5

Language : English

File size : 5775 KB

Screen Reader: Supported

Print length : 164 pages

By Roy A. Kratochwill and John R. Levin

Assessment, Analysis, and Decision Making: The Guilford Practical Intervention in Evaluation is a comprehensive guide to the theory and practice of psychological assessment. This book provides a step-by-step approach to the assessment process, from initial interview to report writing. It includes a wealth of case studies and examples to illustrate the principles and techniques of assessment.

The book is divided into three parts. Part I provides an overview of the assessment process, including the purposes of assessment, the types of assessment instruments available, and the ethical considerations involved in assessment. Part II covers the specific steps involved in the assessment process, from the initial interview to the report writing. Part III provides a number of case studies that illustrate the application of assessment principles and techniques in real-world settings.

Assessment, Analysis, and Decision Making is an essential resource for mental health professionals who are involved in the assessment process. This book provides a clear and concise overview of the theory and practice of assessment, and it includes a wealth of case studies and examples to illustrate the principles and techniques of assessment.

Key Features

- Provides a comprehensive overview of the assessment process, from initial interview to report writing
- Includes a wealth of case studies and examples to illustrate the principles and techniques of assessment
- Covers the ethical considerations involved in assessment
- Written by two leading experts in the field of psychological assessment

Table of Contents

- 1.
2. The Purposes of Assessment
3. The Types of Assessment Instruments
4. The Ethical Considerations Involved in Assessment
5. The Initial Interview
6. The Observation
7. The Psychological Test

8. The Report Writing

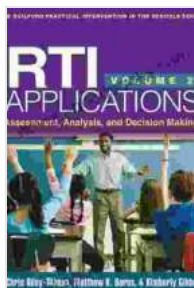

9. Case Studies

Author Biographies

Roy A. Kratochwill is a professor of psychology at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He is the author of over 200 articles and books on psychological assessment and intervention. John R. Levin is a professor of psychology at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He is the author of over 100 articles and books on psychological assessment and intervention.

Free Download Your Copy Today

Assessment, Analysis, and Decision Making is available for Free Download from Guilford Press. To Free Download your copy, please visit the following website: <https://www.guilford.com/books/Assessment-Analysis-and-Decision-Making/Roy-Kratochwill/9781462539625>

RTI Applications, Volume 2: Assessment, Analysis, and Decision Making (The Guilford Practical Intervention in the Schools Series) by T. Chris Riley-Tillman

★★★★☆ 4.7 out of 5

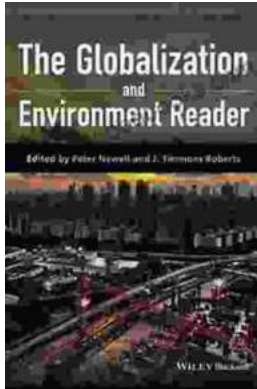

Language : English

File size : 5775 KB

Screen Reader : Supported

Print length : 164 pages

Unlocking the Intricate Nexus: The Globalization and the Environment Reader

In an era marked by rapid globalization, the intricate relationship between human activities and the environment has become increasingly apparent. 'The...

Last Summer at the Golden Hotel: A Captivating Journey of Mystery, Romance, and Redemption

Synopsis: A Transformative Summer at the Golden Hotel Step into the heart of Last Summer at the Golden Hotel, a captivating novel that unveils the transformative...